The Lads and the Frogs

Some lads were playing one day at the edge of a pond in which lived a family of frogs. The lads amused themselves by casting flat rocks into the pond so as to make them skip on top of the water.

The rocks were flying thick and fast and the lads were enjoying themselves very much, but the poor frogs in the pond were trembling with fear.

At last one of the frogs, the oldest and bravest, put his head out of the water and said, “Oh, please, dear children, stop your cruel play! This may be fun for you, but to us, it means death!”
